

Organic farming becomes more and more important cause there is an increasing demand for bio products. The decrees of the European Union EG 834/2007 and EG 889/2008 applying to organic farming name the assumptions an agricultural produce has to fulfil to get the EU bio seal.

Beyond there is defined which kind of detergents and disinfectants are allowed to be applied, but on the other side there is no possibility to register such chemicals under a bio label. To guarantee a better transparency we've closed this gap ourselves by developing a company-internal logo meant for an immediate recognisability of bio-conform products.

Mainly products consisting of hardly treated basic chemicals like caustic soda, sodium hypochlorite, mineral acids, organic acids and similar substances are classified bio-conform by the decree regulating organic farming.

Very sensitive segments like purification and disinfection of milking installations and cow teats which are already featuring a very sophisticated level of product development as well as process safety are not subject to this requirement. The washing-active agents contained in our products designed for these applications meet all requirements of detergent decree (EG) No. 648/2004 in terms of biodegradability.

The Calvatis bio logo allows a fast and safe identification of products to be considered appropriate for organic farming according to given EU guidelines.
